

A young woman with dark hair, wearing a light purple sweater and a colorful beaded necklace, is seated in a wheelchair. She is smiling warmly. An older woman with blonde hair, wearing a black top and a necklace, is leaning over her from behind, smiling and embracing her. They are on a paved street. In the background, there are buildings that appear to be in the process of being demolished or are in ruins, with debris visible. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting daytime.
